Frames omitted after '82—dims Smith's outlook

Based on current understanding of auto manufacturers' product plans over the next several years, and particularly those of General Motors, which is A. O. Smith Corporation's largest customer, unit sales of passenger car frames manufactured by A. O. Smith are expected to decline significantly beginning in 1982.

J. R. Parker, president, said at Milwaukee yesterday that this expected reduction in passenger car frame volume has already partially been offset by new orders for rear axles and new truck frames.

"Demand for our traditional, full length separate frames during this period will be substantially reduced by the industry's continuing trend toward vehicles incorporating front wheel drive configurations and body-frame integral construction," Parker explained.

"We are looking at a drop in unit sales of passenger car frames in 1982 and 1983, perhaps by as much as 75 percent from the level of last year."

He noted that frame production at the company's Automotive Division plants in Milwaukee, Wis., and Granite City, Ill., will be affected by these reduced sales volumes.

In 1979, passenger car frames represented about 32 percent of the company's annual sales of $836 million, with an additional 21 percent in other transportation products such as truck frames, suspension parts, railroad equipment and other structural components.

The balance of the company's sales are in diversified product lines, including electric motors, residential and commercial water heating equipment, automated livestock feeding systems and fiberglass reinforced plastic pipe.

"Passenger car frames and structural components have been a major part of this company's business since early in this century," Parker noted, "and we will continue to identify and demonstrate the advantages of isolated, separate frames to the auto makers wherever we can."

"In some of their new passenger cars, the manufacturers will be using all-new types of chassis structural components and A. O. Smith expects to be an important supplier of these products as well," he continued.

As an illustration, Parker noted that the company was recently awarded a contract to manufacture and assemble the rear trailing axle for a new General Motors 1982 front wheel drive model.

Truck work planned here

With A. O. Smith Corp. plant employment here already down from 1,900 to 1,200 due to slumping sales of autos utilizing frames, it was announced yesterday that production of frames will end with the 1982 model year, in mid-1982.

The phase-out is due to auto manufacturers' plans to emphasize light weight and small size, enabling cars to use less fuel. The littler vehicles will omit frames and instead will rely on front wheel drive designs and body-frame integral construction.

A partial silver lining in the dark cloud of the announcement is that, starting in January 1982, Smith's Granite City plant will produce frames for light trucks.

However, this may involve less than 25 percent of the plant's traditional work volume, once the auto frame orders are completed.

Sales engineers are being assigned the task of finding orders for other types of equipment that can be produced locally. But with smaller and simpler elements involved in future cars, more and more companies are seeking a share of such business and have the capability to compete for it.

Smith has been manufacturing auto frames by the millions since the early years of this century—and remains convinced that frames are vital for maximum automotive strength and safety.

The corporation will try to convince auto firms that frames should be continued, but the car makers' present plans are to produce cars in 1983 and later years without utilizing isolated, separate frames.

Looming large in such planning is the Reagan, Carter strong

Complex issues and diverse personalities make it difficult to evaluate the March 18 presidential primary election. But two key points stand out, political authorities say, and they relate to the two front runners—President Jimmy Carter, Democrat, and former California Governor Ronald Reagan, Republican.

Pres. Carter not only is leading Illinois polls by a large margin, but also enjoys the backing of the established Democratic organization in most parts of the state, including Madison County. An exception is Chicago, where Mayor Jane Byrne first backed Mr. Carter and then endorsed the president's principal primary opponent, Sen. Edward Kennedy.

And the GOP's Reagan not only is competing in the statewide presidential nomination "beauty contest" but is avoiding a misstep that he made in the 1976 Illinois competition—that of ignoring the delegate contests.

This year, Republican hopeful George Bush is largely unrepresented among the delegate candidates, but Reagan has strong supporters among the prospective delegates—despite the fact that he is a "blind" Republican primary.

John Venardos of Alton, regional political director of the Reagan for President Committee of Illinois, said this week his candidate is being supported by Robert "Bob" Glenn and Lorraine E. Wire, both of Belleville, and Don W. Weber of Collinsville. Weber also is running for the Republican state's attorney nomination.

Eleven are seeking the three delegate positions to be filled by Republican voters in the 23rd Congressional District.

Backers of Congressman Philip Crane are Sen. Richard J. Enright of Belleville, Kenneth Fox of East Alton and Gladys Lauerman of Mascoutah.

Uncommitted as to their presidential preference are William H. West of Belleville and Frank L. Flanagan of Edwardsville.

Also on the delegate ballot are Charlotte Longwisch of Edwardsville and State Representatives Everett G. Steele of Glen Carbon and Celeste M. Stiehl of Belleville.

Republican presidential nomination contenders besides Reagan, Bush and Crane are Senators Howard Baker and Robert Dole, Cong. John Anderson, former Texas Gov. John Connally and V. A. Kelley.

Democratic rivals of Pres. Carter and Sen. Kennedy are California Gov. Edmund G. "Gerry" Brown Jr. and Lyndon LaRouche Jr., who originally had filed as the U. S. Labor Party candidate.

Democratic voters will choose seven delegates.

George's birthday—and Bernetta's

George Washington's birthday was Monday, by Congressional definition, but it will be tomorrow, Feb. 22, according to the history books. Sharing that birthday will be Mrs. Bernetta Tubbs of Gelf, Ill.

That fact may not mean much to many people, but it means a lot to Mrs. Theima Black, 2110 Troy St., Cloverleaf Addition, who finds nearly all of her relatives have unusual birthdays. Mrs. Tubbs is her sister.

Examples: Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, Mrs. Black's daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Lutz of Edwardsville.

Pearl Harbor Day, Dec. 7, another daughter, Mrs. Mary Look of Granite City.

Downtown site for cable TV

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Cable TV is coming to Granite City, but it now appears it will be at least mid-April before the company can build a tower and building here and begin service, the Granite City Council was told Tuesday night.

Initially, the council was told service could start here last fall. Later, the estimated starting date was late January or early February.

Spokesmen for Southwestern Cable TV told council members Tuesday night they are attempting to purchase property at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, in downtown Granite City, for a tower and a permanent building.

Mary Hildebrand, community program director for the firm, said engineering studies have shown a "clear path" in the air between the company's microwave tower in Maryville and the proposed site at 19th and Delmar, enabling the microwave signal to be received here from Maryville and then sent to every home subscribing to cable TV.

Since Feb. 12, crews have been stringing cable on utility poles and the company estimates about 30 percent of the cable is now up.

Half of the Ted's Hardware building in the 1900 block of Delmar Avenue has been leased as a temporary headquarters for the firm and currently is being remodeled. The company hopes to occupy it soon.

Sales brochures for the Granite City area have been printed and salesmen

Debate today by Senate hopefuls

The Daily Alestie, the student newspaper at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is sponsoring a political debate by Democratic candidates for the U.S. Senate this afternoon in the St. Clair Room of the Meridian Ballroom, located in the University Center.

Candidates committed to appear are Alex Seith of Hinsdale, Anthony Martin of Chicago, Robert Wallace of Evanston and Dakin Williams of Collinsville. Alan Dixon of Belleville said he could not attend due to scheduling conflicts.

Alestele Editor T. S. Matthews, in announcing the debate, wrote that a debate for Republican candidates for the Senate also may be held. Richard Carver of Peoria has agreed to participate, but no word has been received from Dave O'Neal of Belleville or William J. Scott of Springfield, Matthews said. The idea of having political debates on college campuses throughout Illinois originated with the campaign staffs of Seith and Wallace. The Alestie, Matthews wrote, will also attempt to schedule a debate after March 18 between the winners of the Democratic and Republican primaries.

SIUE Student Body President Michael J. Skinn is the moderator for today's debate, with Matthews, Dennis W. Hostetter, assistant professor of government, and Belleville News-Democrat Editor Joseph Weiler as panelists.

Senior citizens tax aide program

Sue Moore, Public Affairs Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Springfield District, for Central and Southern Illinois and Correstus Williams, office manager of the Alton Office of IRS visited the Granite City Chapter Tax Aide Program counselors last week.

This visit was in connection with the newly set up program of tax aide, tax counseling for the elderly. This program, which has been in operation for five years in the Granite City area, had previously been under the auspices of the Volunteer Income Tax Aid (VITA) program of IRS, and is now accountable through the National NETA-AARP in its own name, Mrs. Elma Hoover announces.

Bar Jaimes is the local coordinator with the Granite City and Madison sites under his supervision. Aid with income tax problems for seniors is available at the Granite City Township Building on Tuesdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and at the Madison Recreation Center on Thursday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. Hoover is the overall coordinator for St. Clair and Madison Counties. There are a number of sites in the Belleville area and also at the Collinsville Township Building, Mrs. Hoover added.

Black history is recalled

FAMOUS BLACKS and some not so famous, portrayed last week at Harris School by young pupils during a school assembly in the gymnasium. Forty-seven blacks were presented to the assembly from all walks of life, including sports figures, the military, musicians, inventors and educators. In the picture at left, Erwin Garrett, right, portrays Garrett A. Morgan, inventor of the electric traffic light and the gas mask; at left is Erika Owens. Pictured at right with Erika Owens, from the left are Gregory Hall as Muhammad Ali, Gary Baker as Leon Spinks and Shawn Dandridge as Joe Frazier, professional boxers. Loans for 178 homes in '79 by Madison County Federal

The Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association had another good mortgage lending year in 1979. A. H. Froemling, president, reported to shareholders Wednesday. Madison County Federal loaned $8,908,200 to local borrowers last year, one of the best lending years in the association's history. The majority of those loans were home financing loans. He pointed out that the association's commitment to the local housing market continued to be strong in spite of the fact that savings gains failed to "reach expected levels."

Savings gains at Madison County Federal totaled $4,356,861 last year. Savings deposits at the association now total $39,088,131, an all-time high.

"Our savers had a good year, though," Froemling said. "We paid a record $2,659,330 in savings interest to our depositors."

"Savings totals are important, because new deposits provide much of the money Madison County Federal has to lend to home buyers."

"We're proud of our role as a specialized mortgage lending institution."

"Savings associations were created nearly 150 years ago to serve the thrift and home ownership needs of the American people, and we take that responsibility seriously."

"We're especially proud that we helped 178 local people purchase homes here last year."

The following directors were re-elected at the annual meeting: O. Thomas Dunlap, Dr. Kenneth J. Hillmer, Ernest L. Hopkins, Raymond F. Kozielek, John L. Palchiff, John W. Reese, Gilbert Rosch, Paul F. Sodko and Albert H. Froemling.

Officers elected for the year 1980 were: Froemling, President; J. L. Winning, vice-president; Carl P. Specking, vice-president; P. F. Sodko, secretary-treasurer; M. C. Harris, assistant secretary; J. N. Corey, assistant secretary; an J. L. Logan, assistant treasurer.

Froemling predicted that 1980 will be a generally good year for the housing industry, although he pointed out that "the year will begin slowly" as the Federal Reserve System's anti-inflation efforts take effect.

Maeras hearing set for Feb. 28

U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman has scheduled a hearing for 8:30 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 28, in Alton to determine whether former Madison County Sheriff John Maeras of Madison should be sentenced in connection with his conviction one year ago on federal racketeering and mail and wire fraud charges.

Sentencing for the former sheriff has been postponed indefinitely due to his health. Doctors testified in May that Maeras, 53, is dying of brain and lung cancer and they estimated he had only four to six months to live.

In December, U.S. Prosecutor Gerald Fines asked Judge Ackerman to schedule a hearing to determine the status of Maeras' health and decide if sentencing should be further postponed.

That hearing had to be postponed twice when both Maeras and Judge Ackerman were hospitalized.

State lottery tries daily plan

By PAT FOLEY
of the Press-Record

The State of Illinois has initiated its newest lottery game, "The Daily Game," with the installation throughout the state of 500 computer terminals which are used to "play the numbers."

The new game series began Tuesday.

Eight such computer terminals have been installed at locations throughout the Quad-City area.

They are located at: Corral Liquors, 3304 Nameoki Road; Reese Drug Stores, Belleme Village Shopping Center and also Third Street and Madison Avenue, Madison; Sullivan's Package Liquors, 2260 Washington Ave.; A & J Market, 4089 Pontoon Road; Pontoon Beach; Town and Country Drive-In Liquors, West Chain of Rocks Road; Mitchell; Chain of Rocks Motel, Route 3 and West Chain of Rocks Road; and Venice Liquors, 324 Broadway, Venice.

The new game is unique in that the player picks his or her own three-digit number to bet on. Any number between 000 and 999 is good. The player simply goes to any of the Daily Game agent locations and places either a dollar or half-dollar bet on any three-digit combination chosen.

There are eight different ways to bet—each with various payoffs. A detailed pamphlet explaining the betting procedures is available at all Daily Game agent locations.

It is possible to bet on a number for that day or up to six days in advance. A winning three-digit combination is drawn in Chicago each evening. Monday through Saturday, at 7 o'clock.

The winning number is transmitted to each of the agent locations. Holders of winning tickets for up to $599 can collect their winnings the same day from any of the locations. Agents will display the daily winning numbers.

Tickets for more than $599 will be paid by check after the ticket claim is filed with the State Lottery Division. Tickets will be sold and payoffs made on Sundays, but no winning number will be drawn.

The nightly number drawings are televised on WGN-TV, Chicago, which is transmitted to local cable TV subscribers in this area.

$30,000 fire at home on Sand Prairie Lane

Fire at the home of Gary Laird, Rural Route One, Box 487, Sand Prairie Lane, caused an estimated $30,000 damage Wednesday morning.

Long Lake volunteer firemen were called out at 4:45 a.m. Wednesday and responded with two pumps, a tanker and the emergency truck.

The kitchen and living room of the ranch-style home were engulfed in flames when firemen arrived, it was related.

The flames were confined to the kitchen and living room, but there was smoke damage throughout the house, breezeway and attached garage. Damage to the building was estimated at $20,000, plus $10,000 to the contents.

An electrical short-circuit is suspected as the cause of the fire. The occupant said he fell asleep watching television and, when he awoke, the house was full of smoke. He got the family out of the home and ran to a neighbor's home to call firemen.

When Laird returned to his house, the flames already were coming out the windows.

Man beaten in Mitchell

Milton Jones, 35, Dallas, Tex., suffered numerous cuts and bruises to his face and abrasions to his left shoulder after a disturbance at the By-Pass Lounge, Maryville & East Chain of Rocks roads, at 9 p.m. Monday.

Madison County sheriff's deputies were told Jones and an out-of-town construction worker referred to as "Boss Hog" or "Boss Man" struggled and Jones' head was slammed on the ground several times.

Jones was cut and bleeding when deputies arrived and he was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted.

THEFT FROM PURSE

About $30 to $40 cash was stolen from the purse of Ertha Scott, 2330 Delmar Ave., in her home about 6:05 p.m. Tuesday. Her son said he had been near the rear door most of the evening and left momentarily for another part of the house. When he returned, he found the rear door partially open. The wallet was found in the rear yard, but the cash had been removed.

Parents of next freshmen to meet

An informational meeting for parents of students who will be freshmen at South High in September 1980 is scheduled at GCHS South on Monday evening, Feb. 25, from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The program will begin in the auditorium with a welcome and introductions by the principal, James Dumont.

Parents will then attend three separate sessions with chairmen of departments at South. In the separate sessions, they will have an opportunity to learn about offerings of those departments.

Parents of incoming ninth graders are being urged to attend so they may better help their child in planning his or her high school program. Students may accompany parents to this informational meeting.

Rescind school nurse pay change

The Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night rescinded an early-February policy revision that had the unexpected result of curtailing the availability of substitute nurses.

Registered nurses, some with bachelor degrees, are utilized as substitutes but are not recognized by the state as certified school nurses without a year's intern work in the schools. It was noted. The policy change had cut daily substitute work pay from $38 to $28.50 but this had no effect on the objective. New policy wording will be developed.

The board began studying a possible move of the Title I instructional program from the Pre-School Center to Coolidge Junior High School, but it plans no immediate action on the program.

It was noted that citizens have visited five schools so far, despite adverse conditions to check building conditions.

The board heard Monte Hopke as a custodian and approved the listing of 11 new substitute cafeteria workers.

A $60,500 grant will be sought for instructional materials under Title IV B of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Car strikes poles, trees

Guy R. Wallace, 40, of 2906 Victory Drive, was charged with driving while intoxicated, resisting arrest and criminal damage to property after his car allegedly knocked down two utility poles and a tree in the 1700 block of Madison Avenue at 2:30 a.m. today.

Police alleged that when they arrived at the scene, Wallace was staggering and slurring his words. They put him in the rear of a squad car and alleged he kicked the right rear window of the squad car out and attempted to crawl from the car.

When police ordered him back in the car, he allegedly pushed at the officers and continued to try to climb out. Force then was used to handcuff him and he was placed in another squad car, officers reported.

Wallace declined treatment for a cut to his face, which was lodged in the Granite City Jail.

Police checked the accident scene and evidence indicated Wallace's Cadillac had been northbound on Madison Avenue when it went over the curb, struck the first utility pole, hit the second pole and then continued to the tree, where it stopped.

FLORENCE METCALF, an Assemblies of God missionary to Malawi. She will speak at a missions rally Sunday at 7 p.m. at Faith Christian Center, 4397 Highway 162, the Rev. John M. Graham, pastor, has announced.

A missionary there 23 years, she reports that the people of Malawi are "receptive to the gospel message."

Short-term memberships

The Tri-City Area YMCA announced today the continued availability of three-month or six-month memberships for any individual 18 years or older. The "Y" offers a wide variety of programs, from fitness classes to guitar lessons.

"A short-term membership enables individuals to see what is available to them without spending a great deal of money," says Physical Director Ed Mercer.

"It is available at any time of the year, and prices are reasonable."

Mercer also mentioned that family memberships have risen dramatically in number during the past year, and are the "best buy" available. For example, a three-month family regular membership is only $31 for two adults and all children in the family living at home, he added.

Man faces two felony charges

Leonard G. Wilson, 30, of 2057 Sherman Ave., who also gave an address in the 400 block of Madison Avenue, Madison, was taken from the Granite City Jail to Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 2:55 a.m. Wednesday in lieu of $1,500 bond on two felony counts of deceptive practices and a county warrant alleging failure to appear in court.

Granite City police charged him with cashing a $99 check at Schermer's Men's Shop Jan. 26, and a $222 check at K-Mart the following day.

He appeared before a judge in Granite City at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday and pleaded guilty to the charges. His bond then was set and a mittimus was issued for his transfer to the county jail.

Pilot trash program proposed to Madison

Rubbermaid Applied Products, Inc., responded Tuesday night to the Madison City Council's call for bids on establishment of a pilot trash collection program in the city.

The detailed proposal was referred to the council's purchasing committee and to Mayor Mike Sasyk, who presided. A recommendation will be prepared for council consideration.

The company, based in Statesville, N.C., proposes to furnish 600 mobile containers for a 60-day period. If it decides later to install a wheeled refuse container system, the city would purchase the pilot program carts and dumpers.

The city entered into a mutual civil defense assistance agreement with Madison County and added $21,700 as a supplement to previously authorized 1979 street maintenance costs.

The city was notified by the federal government of the availability of Granite City Army Installation sites of 44.05 acres including a railroad yard and boundary fencing, 34.03 acres having a highway easement and 2.87 acres with a drainage easement.

Disciplinary hearing for Madison policeman

A three-day hearing by the Madison Board of Fire and Police Commissioners on departmental allegations against Patrolman Larry Gavilsky concluded about midnight last night and the board has taken the case under advisement.

Gavilsky was charged by the board with 13 rule violations, including an incident Dec. 21 or 22 in which he allegedly displayed a handgun while in civilian clothing at Bob Smith's Barbecue, 1310 State St., and then pointed the gun at a woman in front of the business and demanded a beer from her.

The other allegations dealt with calling off work sick and with leaving Madison while on duty, allegedly without permission, on two occasions.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners has 15 days in which to act on the allegations.

E. J. Thompson, 75, succumbs

Edwin J. Thompson, 75, of Harrisburg, Ill., brother of Malcolm Thompson of Granite City, died Wednesday morning in a nursing home in Eldorado, Ill.

He was a retired teacher in the Harrisburg School system and was also engaged in farming, prior to his retirement.

His wife, Mrs. Mae Thompson, preceded him in death.

Other survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Marilyn Barklow and Mrs. Janet Reid, both of Harrisburg; two other brothers, Wilbur Thompson, Newman, Ill., and LaRue Thompson, Brookfield, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Marion McCall, Irving, Ill., Mrs. Mildred McCall, Pine, Ariz., and Mrs. Edna Huneker, Peoria, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday, Feb. 22, at a Harrisburg funeral home.

Swimming instruction

The last winter swim session will be starting at the Tri-City Area YMCA on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 25 and 26, with classes for all ages, from six months to senior citizens.

Classes are offered both during and after school hours, as well as on Saturdays.

For working parents, the "Y" holds classes in the early evening. All non-Saturday classes are held on a twice-weekly basis, on Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday, and last for four weeks.

The "Y" insists on a low student-to-instructor ratio to insure quality instruction.

Realtors honor 3

The Granite City Board of Realtors presented plaques of appreciation to Melvin C. Wilmshere, First Granite City National Bank president, Edwin Reinegal of M. E. Hoffman Co., and John Martinez of Delmar Financial Co., at a regular meeting Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant.

The plaques were presented to show the real estate boards' appreciation for their efforts in obtaining the 8 1/2 percent city-backed mortgage bonds which have given area residents some relief in interest rates when purchasing homes in Granite City.

Mayor Paul Schuler was unable to attend the meeting but will also receive a plaque from the board.

The presentation was made by Herman Schroeder, past board president.

VISITING SCHOOLS

Granite City residents are being invited to join members of the Citizens Advisory Committee of the Granite City school district in touring four schools Saturday as part of a continuing inspection of facilities by citizens. Saturday's tour will begin at 8 a.m. at Emerson School and will proceed to Prather Junior High School at 8:45, Logan School at 9:15 and Johnson School from 10 to 11:15.

Student loan refund policy

The refund policy applicable to recipients of federally guaranteed student loans at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been abolished by the SIUC Board of Trustees.

Recipients of such loans will be subject to the general university refund policy in the future.

University officers explained that the policy which was established by board action in 1976 to comply with regulations governing the federally guaranteed student loan program.

Because of recent changes in regulations, a specific refund policy is no longer required, and application of the institution's general refund policy is acceptable.

Officers said abolition of the policy will simplify the administration of student assistance programs, particularly in the case of students who withdraw from school.

Conferences on prisons and society

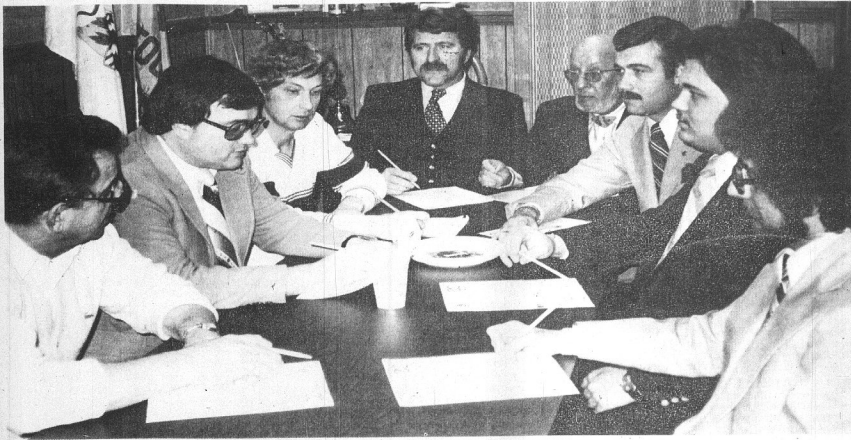

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor two conferences on prisons and society Feb. 26 and 27. The conferences are free and the public is invited to attend.

The first conference is scheduled Tuesday, Feb. 26, in Room 1015 of the university's East St. Louis Resident Center, 411 E. Broadway.

The second will be held Wednesday, Feb. 27, in the Madison Room (west entrance to Meridian Ballroom) of the University Center on the SIUE campus. Both conferences will run from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Funded by the Illinois Humanities Council and produced by the John Howard Association, a nationally-known Chicago-based prison reform organization, the forums are two in a series of conferences being held at different locations around the state.

Purpose is to examine philosophical underpinnings of the present penal system, showing the essential humanities of prisoners (as evidenced by their poetry and prose), and to address key local correctional issues.

COOPERATIVE PLANNING between the three Lions clubs in the Quad-City area for the glaucoma screening unit which will visit the area on Tuesday, March 4. Discussing times and places for operation of the mobile screening unit in the local community, from left around the table, are: John Belloc, Madison Lions president; William Gushleff, Madison program chairman; Rich Bright, Madison Lions secretary; Bob Cavar, Pontoon Beach glaucoma unit chairman; Pontoon Beach Lions President Dr. George Goodwin; Randall Irwin, a member of the Granite City glaucoma unit committee, and Dave Long and Frank Greathouse, co-chairmen of the Granite City Lions screening program. The glaucoma unit, sponsored by the Lions of Illinois Foundation, will be at the Madison Recreation Center from 9 to 11 a.m.; Granite City Township Building from 12:30 to 4 p.m., and at A and J Market in Pontoon Beach from 5 to 9 p.m. March 4.

University to honor 4

Presentation of an honorary degree and three distinguished service awards to four residents of the region at the June 6 commencement of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been authorized by the SIUE Board of Trustees. The honors were recommended by the University Committee for Honorary Degrees and Distinguished Service awards and the acting president of the university.

Those to be honored are: John F. McDermott of St. Louis — honorary degree of doctor of humane letters. Olin W. Stratton of Highland and a Centralia couple, J. Faye Wham and John Page Wham are distinguished service awards.

McDermott, emeritus professor at SIUE and the first research professor of humanities at the university, is an expert in the history of French and Spanish settlers in Colonial America. A descendant of St. Louis founder Pierre LaCade, he has received many awards from the French and Spanish governments, as well as a number of national and international honors. He has been appointed by governors of both political parties to task forces on education for Illinois. In 1979, he was named a delegate to the International Conference on Education in Switzerland.

"In his leadership role as superintendent and as a charter member of the Superintendents Forum, Olin W. Stratton has played a focal role in area educational development," the University Committee states.

Mrs. Wham, who has served as a board member of the SIUE Foundation and was president from 1971 to 1973, has recorded a number of "firsts" in her many years of personal achievement. She is the only woman to receive the Distinguished Service Award of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for outstanding civic work. The first woman to serve the board of the Illinois Retail Association, she has subsequent involvement on advisory committees and its educational division. She also became the first woman board member of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

She is listed as one of the Outstanding Civic Leaders of America, "recognizing her active contributions to a wide variety of organizations dedicated to the welfare of humanity."

In its tribute to Mrs. Wham, the University Committee states, "To everything she has done, particularly in the ways she has expressed her friendship and devotion to her alma mater, J. Faye Wham has offered a warm and special personal quality."

"Her association with SIUE has been crucial to the growth and strength of SIUE. Countless people, both within the SIUE community and without, have found their lives enriched by her kindness and largesse."

John Wham was a member of the Board of Trustees from 1949 to 1965 and served as chairman 12 years. According to the University Committee, he "can truly be described as one of the founding fathers of the university in its post-World War II metamorphosis."

"He served as one of the incorporators of the SIUE Foundation. He has held membership in the Dean's Club of Law."

"At the tenth anniversary ceremonies of the opening of the SIUE campus, he was singled out for special recognition."

A practicing attorney since 1926, Wham is a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers and a member of the American Bar Association, Illinois Bar Association and American Judicature Society.

In addition to many roles of civic leadership, he has served on the Merit Board of the University Civil Service System, the State University Retirement System, the Illinois Board of Higher Education, the Illinois Arts Council and the Illinois Historical Association.

The Rev. Khoren Habeshian announced services for Ash Wednesday, followed by a devotional study hour each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. during Lent.

National Steel increases dividend; major coal sale; changes in board

Directors of National Steel Corporation, at a meeting Wednesday in Pittsburgh, increased the regular quarterly dividend to 67½ cents per share for the first quarter of 1980.

The previous regular quarterly dividend rate has been 65 cents per share. The dividend will be payable March 14 to stockholders of record March 3.

Granite City Steel, largest steel producer in the St. Louis area, is a division of National Steel.

At the same meeting, two additional actions were taken by the board of directors concerning sale of coal reserves and election of three new members to the board.

In the coal sale, the directors ratified the agreement reached earlier with Utah International, Inc., for the sale to Utah International of wholly owned, high-quality utility coal in Southeastern Kentucky, along with several leases controlled by National Steel, in a cash transaction amounting to $158 million.

The purchase, which has been approved by Utah's board of directors, is expected to be completed in the first quarter of 1980 and will produce an after-tax gain of approximately $100 million or 85 per share.

National Steel said, "This sale represents a preferred means for the development of certain of our coal reserves which are excess to any requirements which we may have for our own consumption. The great bulk of our reserves of both metallurgical and steam coal is not included in this sale.

"National Steel will continue to own and develop its extensive metallurgical coal reserves, which are more than adequate to meet any foreseeable future needs."

Elected as new directors of National Steel are: Anthony M. Frank, chairman, United Financial Corporation of California; Dr. Jean Mayer, president of Tufts University; and Dr. James C. LaForce, dean of the Business School, University of California at Los Angeles.

Existing legislation requires that directors of one financial institution not serve on the board of another.

As a result of the National Steel acquisition of United Financial Corporation of California, several members of National's board who also are members of the boards of other financial institutions have resigned.

They are: Henry L. Hillman, Maurice R. Chambers of St. Louis, Buck Mickel and Walter A. Marting.

Inconsistent prosecution, Haine says

William R. Haine, a Democratic candidate for state's attorney March 18, has spoken before a group of Granite City policemen and proposed a number of changes in the state's attorney's office.

Haine said one of the primary problems is confusion over the procedure to obtain warrants. "There is apparently no policy and no standard in the present office," he said.

"Some of the assistant state's attorneys authorize warrants no matter how flimsy the evidence is, while others refuse warrants unless they are certain the case can be won."

"Some homicides are prosecuted while others are not, seemingly without rhyme or reason, and no explanation is given to the people or to the police officers."

"This creates controversies and undermines public respect for law enforcement.

"The solution," Haine told the officers, "is to assign an assistant to each venue. That attorney would become acquainted with each officer serving that community and give advice on a variety of matters, including arrest warrants, search warrants, and evidentiary matters needed to complete investigations."

"Each officer in that community would know that the assistant state's attorney would be available 24 hours a day in emergencies."

"These attorneys who provide liaison with the police agencies will be accountable directly to me as state's attorney. I will maintain uniform and consistent implementation of my policies and priorities."

Haine also proposed to have experienced trial attorneys on his staff to supervise and train younger attorneys and to ensure convictions in difficult cases. His goal is to develop a full-time staff of experienced assistants and to encourage career criminal prosecutors.

Haine said certain areas of prosecution demand special expertise and continuing commitment, citing rape, child abuse, and business fraud as examples.

"Many people of this county are rightfully dissatisfied. More attention will be devoted to these areas when I am state's attorney," he said.

"There is no excuse for inefficiency and inconsistency. What needs to be done is simply a matter of good administration and communication among professionals."

The present treatment of policies is as subordinates to the state's attorney's office. We should be equal partners in the administration of justice and the prosecution of criminals."

Too much 'assistance' on trash specifications?

Attempts to rebid the garbage and trash collection package for Granite City became more complicated Tuesday night as Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, chairman of the council's finance committee, alleged one party appears to be attempting to urge the council to prepare the bid specifications in a way which would nearly eliminate all other bidders from competing for the contract.

The current trash contract expires in July and the city engineering department is preparing specifications for bidding next month.

In a prepared statement, Bowler told the aldermen that "mysteriously," a blank contract was sent by an unidentified source to the city's sewage treatment plant. He said it read "as though Granite City was writing a contract only for sludge removal (from the treatment plant)."

He contended the five-page sludge removal contract proposal is thicker than the current city contract with the Milam East Division of SCA Services for trash collection and sludge removal.

Bowler contended that the terms of the blank contract seem to favor one potential bidder and stated, "It is surprising that these specifications have been issued by a company that wants to receive said contract. It is also quite surprising that this list of specifications is to the company's benefit and not the city's. The very existence of such a prototype is a surprise in itself."

He continued, "This entire document defies description. This list of terms and conditions is subject to abuse, and it is obviously to one company's advantage for us to even consider it as a reputable, viable proposal."

The consideration of this document would give such a company a definite advantage over any other hauler," he stated.

Bowler said the blank contract would require any bidder for trash hauling to submit extensive proof of his ability to properly finance and execute the contract, along with records of successful completion of contracts. The city also would have to inspect the equipment and facilities of the company before awarding the contract.

"When someone receives a contract, he can take that to a bank and use it to get equipment he needs. But the proposed wording might exclude some firms," he commented.

The alderman also noted that the blank contract requires that the successful bidder dump trash and sludge in a Madison County dump and said, "This excludes someone who dumps in St. Clair County. It may be that we can save money by dumping in St. Clair."

He also said the proposed contract gives a successful bidder the right to increase fees with cost-of-living trends and increased costs. Bowler contended, "We should recommend a flat rate of increase, not have them tell us what the increases will be."

"As you know, this is a large portion of our new budget and there are inflationary causes here. The money would be drained from the city," he added.

It also requires only a one-year performance bond, while the city is seeking a three-year performance bond, he told the aldermen.

Other objections included provisions that the trash hauler would do the weighing and counting of loads hauled. The city should have and keep the number of loads checked at the point of hauling," he asserted.

Bowler also said the blank contract has no provisions for emergency service or Sunday or holiday pickups of sludge and gives the superintendent of the sewage treatment plant authority to enforce the contract.

"The mayor, the city council or other designated authority should have the right to cancel this contract, not the water treatment plant," he stated.

"Therefore, it is my opinion that the city would be ill-advised to consider such a proposal. It is not in the community's best interest, either financially or ethically, to consider a proposal that does not adhere to the rules we have previously established."

Alderman Sam Whitmer, who was serving as mayor pro-tem in the absence of Mayor Paul Schuler, said, "The city will go by the contract being prepared by the city engineer. People, this is the one we will look at."

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said his office has been working on specifications for a new round of bidding. He added that a decision must be made on whether the hauling of sludge from the wastewater treatment plant will be included in the new contract.

There also is an unresolved question of whether the city should continue to haul the sludge with its own trucks, or whether hauling and disposal of sludge should be a part of the new contract, he said.

He said the company was recently notified that it had been awarded new contracts for high-volume truck frames with annual shipments of approximately $2 million.

"We are competing for additional new contracts for structural components for both passenger cars and trucks and we expect that A. O. Smith will continue to win its share," Parker said.

He also noted that the non-automotive operations of the company will continue to grow at a good pace over the next few years, reducing A. O. Smith's reliance on the automotive frame business.

A. O. Smith, with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer. Its product lines include electric motors, agricultural machinery, handling systems, auto and truck structural components, water heating equipment, fiber glass reinforced plastic pipe, computer services and agricultural financing.

Smith is known to want to continue active operations here, and it praises Granite City workers for productive, skilled handling of difficult assembly line tasks.

But the trend in auto designs is creating a serious dilemma in identifying high-volume products that can be made here.

Closely related to this problem is auto firms' desire to internally produce a growing proportion of their auto parts, making use of the talents and availability of many General Motors, Ford and Chrysler employees already on layoffs.

The council was told that attorneys for Southwestern are negotiating with four owners of small lots on the southern corner of 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, including the city.

A wall near the vacant corner has been considered an "eyesore" downtown and proper new construction could enhance the beauty of the area, one city official later remarked.

The council voted to refer the issue to its city buildings committee, of which Alderman Lloyd Bailey is chairman. The committee is to discuss sale of its portion of the lot to Southwestern, and return to the council with a recommendation.

Car is pushed into train; driver hurt

Michael Lowrey, 31, Dellewied, Mo., was injured when his car, stopped for a train at the Missouri Avenue (Old Route 3) crossing north of West 25th Street, was struck from behind by a tractor-trailer and was pushed into the moving train at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The tractor-trailer then backed up and the driver got out and fled on foot from the scene.

Lowrey was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated for a cut to the back of his head and pain to his neck. He also was dazed, he told authorities. Sutures were administered and he was admitted. Officers had the tractor-trailer towed to a police holding area and searched the cab for clues as to the identity of the driver. Identification indicated a Wisconsin man was the driver. Building repairs at university

Reports on the award of contracts by the Capital Development Board for two projects at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have been accepted by the SIU Board of Trustees on Feb. 12.

The projects involve correction of masonry problems in the four core buildings on the central campus, and improvements to Classroom Buildings II and III to comply with requirements of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare concerning safety and use of the buildings by handicapped persons.

All bids were received and opened at the CDB offices in Springfield. The 1979-80 capital projects had been previously approved by the Board of Trustees. Successful bidder for the masonry project is Kenneth Jamison & Sons, Inc., of Brighton. The contract price is $345,000, with a five percent contingency of $27,250. The project will correct cracking and spalling in brickwork of the tower areas of the core buildings. Damaged areas will be removed and replaced, or repaired if possible.

University officers said correction of these problems will prevent water from seeping under the masonry and causing further deterioration.

Contracts for improvements to classroom buildings were awarded to: general—Rule Construction Co., Inc., Collinsville, $120,350; plumbing—Morris Heating, Inc., Granite City, $2,795; and electrical—Rite Electric Co., Granite City, $11,096.

The bids total $142,241, and a contingency fund of $14,224 raises the total project cost to $156,465.

He was also recognized for his role as an advocate of rights and quality of life for handicapped persons.

As a commissioner, DeShong had been chairman of the Administration, Research & Development Committee and the Transit Committee, and served on the Law and Legislation, Pension Plan Administrative, Pension-Self Insurance, and Port committees.

Bi-State commissioners are appointed by the governors of Missouri or Illinois. Five persons from each state are appointed for five-year terms. The board includes Carl E. Mathias of Granite City.

Family life conference

The family—with its strengths and needs—will be the focus of a statewide conference called by Governor James Thompson. The Illinois White House Conference on Families will be held on March 7 at the Pick Congress Hotel in Chicago.

The conference is being sponsored by the Junior League of Illinois and the Illinois Association of Family Service Agencies—locally, the Family Service and Visiting Nurse Association and the Junior League of Greater Alton.

It will closely examine issues surrounding family life. The major issues have been defined through public hearings and ballots.

Topics chosen by the Illinois Conference will serve to heighten public awareness about families and to set up a means to gather a broad base of data about family life.

There have been concerns in many areas about the family and its needs. It is anticipated that legislation and policy formation will be affected by the issues presented at the state and national meetings.

President Jimmy Carter called the White House Conference on Families in an effort to heighten public awareness about families and to set up a means to gather a broad base of data about family life.

TAKES WALLLET, $270

A woman described as in her late 30s asked to use the phone at the home of George Heath, 2415 Illinois Ave., at about 4 p.m. Friday and left after stealing his wallet containing $270 and medicare cards. She told him her car had run out of gasoline a block away and said she needed to call a friend to help her.

Fuel prices cut Lincoln home, Arch crowds

Despite the energy crunch, 11 of the 27 National Park Service (NPS) areas in the 10-state Midwest region recorded increases in visitation during 1979. NPS Regional Director J. L. Dunning of Omaha said this week, "Gasoline prices and shortages appear to have cut travel to many of the parks in more remote areas."

But parks near population centers generally drew well, and the region-wide visitation total increased slightly, thanks mostly to the addition of some new areas to the system.

The Lincoln Home National Historic Site, Springfield, Ill., drew 403,236 visitors, down 46,968. NPS areas in the 10 states of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas attracted 9,825,080 in 1979.

Although that is up 72,724 from the 1978 total, the 1979 figure was swelled by the addition of the Fort Scott (Kan.) National Historic Site to the national park system, and the initiation of visitor counts on the lower St. Croix River, part of the St. Croix National Scenic Riverway in Wisconsin and Minnesota. Gateway Arch attendance declined 856,584 to 1,898,479. Landscaping work curtailed use of the Arch grounds for public events.

The Ozark National Scenic Riverways tallied 1,077,675, up 15,097.

He was put in a squad car and police said they recovered 13½ ounces of marijuana from the top of the shed. Reeves was released on $25 cash bond.

Venice-Madison area advisory panel for mental health clinic

A Venice Madison Community Advisory Committee has been formed by the Mental Health Clinic, Quad-City Center.

The center has been attempting since the spring of 1979 to more fully address the mental health needs of both Venice and Madison residents.

The following personal contacts, representing a variety of sectors within both cities, were made:

Madison Recreation Center, Madison schools, Venice schools, Silver Bells, Urban League, First National Bank in Madison, Jaycees, Mayor Tyrone Echols and Venice City Council members, Council Against Parent-Youth Problems, Tree House Day Care Center, Madison County Housing social worker, NAACP, and Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission.

Objectives of these contacts included:

1. Familiarizing the general public with currently existing services offered at the Mental Health Clinic, Quad-City Center, in Granite City.

2. Obtaining information from the contacts as to immediate and long-range community needs in the area of mental health.

3. Offering a presentation of the Mental Health Clinic's needs assessment data, and a summation of information gathered from the personal contacts — at a general meeting.

4. Offering guidance and support for the establishment of a mental health community advisory board which would include the contacts and other concerned citizens.

During the fall, a meeting was held with representatives of the community at the Mental Health Clinic, Quad-City Center.

The needs assessment data and perceived needs, as identified through the contacts, were discussed. Identified needs seemed to center around two main problem areas — that of parent-youth difficulties, and lack of information resources and community education.

As a result of this meeting, the decision was made to take a more active role in pursuing the support and recognition of the political and social environment. A meeting was scheduled in November with Mayor Echols, who acknowledged the Mental Health Clinic's efforts and suggested that the clinic present a proposal at a City Council meeting.

At a Council meeting in November, JoAnn Searles and Sandy Becker-Warden of the Mental Health Clinic summarized clinic services, presented the proposal to form an advisory board, and requested the use of the City Council chambers as a meeting place for the advisory board.

These efforts have resulted in several persons expressing an interest in serving on an advisory board and participating in planning for services.

In the past month, two scheduled advisory committee meetings have been held at the Venice City Council chambers. At these meetings, the group began to prioritize the community needs and make plans for implementing some services to meet these needs.

Committee members also decided to inform the community of the committee's activities, and they hope to enlist additional support and involvement.

Individuals interested in becoming involved can contact Committee Members Helen Jacks at 451-9108 or Iola Robinson at 451-1323.

The next advisory committee meeting is scheduled for Monday, Feb. 25, at 5:30 p.m. at the Venice City Council Chambers.

The agenda will include a discussion of the goals of the committee, a presentation from the Council Against Parent-Youth Problems, and an exploration of how other advisory committees operate.

On March 23, Pastor E. E. Maritt will lead the service at Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, National and St. Clair avenues, with the Gene Fuller family of Mt. Vernon bringing special music and a sermon presented by the Rev. Eugene Seaman.

Pastor Louis Frick will lead the March 30 service at 7 p.m. at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue. Wes Laws, St. Louis Salvation Army public relations worker, will give the message, and special music will be featured.

Hilltoppers hear Dr. Netz

The Rev. Dr. Kenneth Netz presented a unique program for members of the Hilltoppers Club of St. John United Church of Christ, at a monthly meeting held last week at the church.

He spoke on the topic, "Not to Worry" and "It for Home." For the latter subject he turned the letter H into a cross to illustrate his talk.

The group gathered at 1 p.m. for the meeting conducted by Oliver Pfeiffer. Dr. Netz opened with prayer and led the pledge to the flag. Several songs were sung by members accompanied by Dr. Netz at the piano.

Forteen attended with a guest, Mrs. Ruth Jensen, who later became a member.

Mrs. Helen Pfeiffer gave the secretary-treasurer report and noted three members are hospital patients. Cards were signed and sent to the ill.

The president read an invitation to attend a dinner and dance on Tuesday at the Township Hall.

Dr. Netz offered prayer for the sick and members repeated the Lord's Prayer and sang a closing hymn.

During the social hour cake and coffee was served from tables decorated with candy hearts and flowers. Games were played and a special prize awarded to Mrs. Catherine Roman.

GC crimes climb 9%

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Major crimes in Granite City were up nine percent during January, as compared to January 1979, according to a monthly report by the police department.

A major factor in the increase in crime last month was auto burglary cases; 55 cases were reported, up 96 percent from the 28 cases in January 1979. The only other category showing an increase was larceny, up 10 percent from 60 to 66 cases in the same period.

Decreases were shown in homicide, down from one in January 1979 to zero last month; assault, down 35 percent from 20 cases to 13 last month; burglary, down 24 percent, from 37 cases in January 1979 to 28 cases last month; and auto theft, down seven percent, from 14 to 13.

Remaining the same were rape and robbery, with one case each in January 1979 and in January 1980.

Arrests cleared 123 cases (other than traffic) last month, up 10 percent from 112 cases cleared by arrest in January 1979. However, the number of major cases cleared by arrest was down two percent, from 44 to 43, during the same period.

The actual number of arrests was up by about the same percentage with 483 persons arrested last month, as compared to 309 one year earlier.

Traffic arrests were up 110 percent, from 185 in January 1979 to 389 last month, according to the report.

The numbers of auto accidents and injury accidents were lower in January than the same month in 1979.

Injury accidents dropped 58 percent, from 43 in January 1979 to 18 last month, and the number of persons injured dropped 62 percent, from 61 to 23 in the same two months. Property damage accidents declined 64 percent, from 261 to 93 in the same period.

Advanced courses in adult education

Authorization for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to offer a major in adult and continuing education, leading to a master of science degree in education, has been granted by the SIU Board of Trustees, subject to approval by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

According to spokesmen for the SIUE School of Education, the major would prepare adult educators for instructional and administrative roles in public and private agencies.

Dean Don Carver of the School of Education commented that there is "a new awareness of the needs of the adult learner," resulting in "an expansion of programs and services for adults."

He said, "Programs for the aged, correctional education, women's studies, and weekend colleges, to name just a few activities, have become more numerous. These trends suggest the need for the university to examine the various roles it can play in continuing education."

"One such role is to prepare professionals who will be increasingly needed to staff educational programs for adults."

"There is ample evidence to suggest that the quality of adult and continuing education programs is directly related to the skills and training of the individuals involved."

"The proposed major would prepare adult education personnel for needed instructional and leadership roles in adult basic education, public and private school adult college, four-year institution and community agency continuing education programs."

The dean said implementation of the program would not require additional resources. Funds would be reallocated from the budget of the School of Education.

Sentences in rapes

Four St. Louis men convicted of kidnapping and raping three Collinsville area women Oct. 11 have been sentenced in U.S. District Court at East St. Louis to serve 40 to 50 years in prison and a fifth man is to be sentenced soon.

U.S. District Judge James Foreman sentenced Napoleon Stewart, 20, Gregory Williams, 22, and Kelvin Hastings, 23, to serve 50 years in prison. Gable Gibson, 20, was sentenced to serve 40 years.

They were convicted Jan. 25 of kidnapping, conspiracy and interstate transportation of the three women for the purpose of raping them.

Sentencing was delayed for Kevin Anderson, 20, whose attorney was out of town. The victims, ages 18, 19 and 22, testified their car was forced from the road in East St. Louis and the men pulled them from the car, molested them in East St. Louis and then drove them to St. Louis, where the men beat and raped them.

Charges in connection with the case still are pending in St. Louis. Each man faces six counts in Missouri. A trial date has not been set.

DOYLE DYKES known professionally as "God's Guitar Pickin' Man" will perform at assemblies Friday at South high school at 8:20 a.m. and at North high school at 2:20 p.m. He also will participate in the celebration of National Church Music Week at the Church of God, 1205 W. Pontoon, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, according to the Rev. David Hindman, associate pastor.

Church of God marks "Church Music Week"

Doyle Dykes, who was the lead guitarist for Hee Haw star, Grandpa Jones for two and a half years, performing on the Grand Ole Opry, road shows and various television shows, will perform at two high school assemblies and a Granite City church, this weekend.

Known professionally as "God's Guitar Pickin' Man," Dykes will present a program on Friday at South high school at 8:20 a.m. and at North high school at 2:20 p.m.

He is scheduled to be in concert on Friday and Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock and at 11 a.m. Sunday at Church of God, 1205 W. Pontoon Road.

His church appearance is in conjunction with the week long celebration of National Church Music Week under the auspices of the main offices of the Church of God in Cleveland, Tenn., according to the host pastor, the Rev. O. J. Cloninger.

Dykes has appeared on the Porter Wagoner Show, Good Ole Nashville Music, and a network special "The Largest Indoor Country Music Concert in History" at the Silver Dome in Pontiac, Mich., with a live audience of over 67,000 people.

He also has toured throughout the country of Japan. Doyle and his wife, Rita, and daughters Heidi and Hollie are in the full time ministry traveling across the United States and foreign countries.

A native of Jacksonville, Fla., the young entertainer began his career in music by singing and playing with his family known as "The Bubba Dykes Family" and later played lead guitar with other gospel groups.

He arranges and produces his own records and writes most of the songs he records, Rev. Cloninger added.

The local pastor extends an invitation to the public to attend the services and concert with special emphasis on gospel music.

Jewelry and other items valued at nearly $5,000 were stolen from the van of Gunther Wieckhorst, 143 Briarmoor Lane, parked in front of his home between 4 a.m. and 7:10 p.m. Sunday. There were no signs of forced entry to the van. Wieckhorst said he was unable to turn on the burglar alarm to the vehicle, since the lock was frozen, but is sure he locked the doors.

Taken were four men's wedding bands, three sets of women's wedding rings, assorted old coins, costume jewelry, a pouch containing a gold bracelet and a silver necklace, both bearing a Mexican seal, a cardboard box containing tools and a hanging macrame decoration.

Breakthroughs in horseradish production

By JUDY TAPLIN
Test tube horseradish is a reality, area farmers attending a vegetable growers' school at the Holiday Inn of Collinsville were told.

The method through which horseradish can now be propagated from a test tube is nicknamed "T.C." The initials stand for tissue culture.

Martin Meyer — from the department of horticulture at the University of Illinois and the person doing the test tube research — told the growers that the primary purpose of test tube horseradish is to produce a disease-free product.

That was good news for American Bottom farmers who are facing serious problems from brittle root disease and a little foreign insect called the berris lepidi.

Growers now plant side roots or "starts" in the spring to produce their next crop. By fall, the "starts" have developed into mature roots.

In tissue propagation, a leaf of the horseradish plant is used. A small piece only about one-third of an inch square is sterilized and dropped into a test tube (or jar) containing a nutrient solution. Roots and shoots develop.

When the new young plant is several inches long, it is transplanted into a pot; when it is a little larger it is transplanted again, this time into the field.

Chris Doll, area extension adviser, says enough test tube horseradish has been produced to enable a field trial in this area soon.

The "orchid people" have adopted this method of propagation already, according to Doll, with a resulting increase in production reaching into the millions.

For horseradish growers, the new process is expected to bring 10-fold production increases, by a very conservative estimate.

Currently, one horseradish root can produce about five young roots.

But one plant begun in the test tube can produce thousands of young roots in 30 days.

Propagation by tissue culture is "one of the hottest horticultural subjects in the nation this year," Doll says. The growers also heard a report last week on another breakthrough — the propagation of horseradish from seed. This ongoing research project is supervised by A. M. Rhodes of the University of Illinois horticulture department.

Area growers say the two methods together, when perfected, will bring major changes in the horseradish industry.

Brittle root disease and the berris lepidi were major topics at the school. Nobody as yet knows what causes brittle root, which begins with yellowing leaves and ends with horseradish plant that has deteriorated to nothing.

What area farmers do know is that the disease hit this area hard in 1953, 1975 and 1979.

"We may not see it again for another five years," Doll says. "But in 1979, it was in every field."

The University of Illinois has launched what Doll describes as a priority program to find the cause of brittle root within the next year.

The insect berris lepidi was present in area fields last year but did not do the extensive damage seen in some other years.

The University of Illinois is attempting to obtain clearance from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to allow Illinois farmers to use a new pesticide for control of the insect.

This effort stems from a

TRUCK IS STOLEN

A white over green 1977 Chevrolet four-wheel-drive truck was taken from the used car lot of Mathews Chevrolet, Madison and Niedringhaus avenues, about 4 p.m. Thursday by a man who said he wanted to test drive it and would leave his car in the parking lot. When the man, who was about 40 years old, failed to return with the truck, a salesman checked the lot for the man's car and found none had been left.

IHSA takes a stand: Lovejoy is out

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, Feb. 21, 1980—21

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The Illinois High School Association, shrouded with secrecy, made a decision last week on charges that Lovejoy (Brooklyn) High School violated IHSA bylaws prohibiting schools from participating in two basketball tournaments in one season.

The IHSA ruled last Wednesday at its regular meeting of the Board of Directors that Lovejoy is ineligible to compete in the Association's post-season tournament, meaning the DuPo Regional meet, first step toward a state title.

The ruling means that the DuPo Regional had to be restructured, since Lovejoy had been the top-seeded team (see related story).

Since Lovejoy Principal Leo J. Triplett and head basketball coach Leon Thomas failed to appear at last week's meeting, they were asked by IHSA Executive Secretary Lavere Harris to attend a special meeting Monday in order that the decision be explained to them.

Monday, Thomas, Triplett and assistant coach Clinton Harris met with the IHSA to appeal the ruling.

Triplett was dismayed by the ruling. "I don't see what we've done that's so wrong," he said. "We were not aware of the rule and we obviously did not violate it intentionally," Triplett said he felt the punishment was too harsh for the violation.

"Basketball is all our little town has. It's all they look forward to. They live and die with it."

The IHSA may have offered a glimpse at the possible punishment for Lovejoy after last Wednesday's meeting when it was announced that several swimmers from Belleville, Waterloo and Columbia had been ruled ineligible because they competed in an Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) meet after having trued in their IHSA eligibility sheets. GRANITE CITY — Young Eric had a dream. He was a dreamer of sorts, you know. His dream was to play in the state basketball tournament. He wanted to win it.

Eric played on a team many thought had a chance of playing in the state tournament. Eric wasn't a bad player himself, either. He was known around the area as one of the best. He was from a small black community that lived and breathed basketball. The tiny school had no other sport.

And then, it was taken away from him. But it wasn't Eric's fault. Nor was it the fault of his teammates. They worked hard. They played hard. But at times, they thought the whole world was against them. They kept on trying. Because basketball was all they knew.

Eric's school made a mistake. It broke a rule by the state high school association. No, nobody took bets on the team's games. Nobody sold dope to little kids on the playground. Nobody fixed the outcomes of games.

Starters relax in Venice romp

EAGLE SANDWICH. Belleville St. Henry's Brad Birch (43) is sandwiched in between Venice players James Cox (31) and John Williams (43) Tuesday night during action at Venice High Gymnasium.

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

VENICE — It was an unusual atmosphere here Tuesday night in the fourth quarter of Venice High's basketball game against Belleville St. Henry.

Donald Gardner smiled and waved to friends in the stands. His brother Archie relaxed and sipped some water through a squirt bottle. Kevin Wigfall chatted with other teammates on the bench.

Those three, along with the rest of the regulars for Venice got to take early against St. Henry. They watched as the freshmen and sophomores closed out a 118-62 rout of the hapless Eagles.

Venice coach Ken Perkins, however, did not seem as content about the situation. winning a game against the likes of a St. Henry isn't quite the same as winning one against, say, a Madison or a Lebanon.

Or even a Staunton or Summer. The Red Devils will get little time to enjoy their biggest victory of the season. Friday night, they host pesky Staunton (17-4).

Saturday, they host St. Louis Summer, a team they shipped by 14 on the road earlier this season, but nonetheless a Class 4A (large school) St. Louis inner-city team. And that can always mean trouble.

"We played terrible the first quarter tonight," said Perkins. "That worries me a little. In fact, the whole first half, I thought we looked sluggish."

Sluggishness is something that could have been expected against St. Henry, a team that in the past three seasons has won almost enough games to make one count them on two hands — but not quite.

But the Eagles came out fired up. And Venice appeared to think all it had to do to win was step out onto the floor.

They were wrong. Not far off, but wrong. St. Henry actually held a 12-10 lead at one point early in the game. Not that Venice wasn't controlling the action

Madison top team

It's St. Henry again in re-seeded DuPo Regional

DUPO — Madison is seeded number one and Venice will play its second game in as many weeks against hapless St. Henry. Prep Belleville here next Tuesday night, thanks to the IHSA ruling that Lovejoy (Brooklyn) is ineligible for post-season play. And it most likely will set up a Madison-Venice game in the semifinals.

Lovejoy had been seeded number one, but after the IHSA ruling was announced Monday, the wheels were set in motion and this is what came out yesterday: Madison, which had been seeded second, and East St. Louis Assumption, which had been third, have been placed in opposite brackets and given first round byes. Originally, Madison was scheduled to play Columbia in the first round and Venice was to tangle with DuPo. But all that's been changed.

26. Venice will play St. Henry at 6:30 p.m. and DuPo will play Columbia at 8 p.m.

The winner of the Venice-St. Henry game will play Madison Wednesday, Feb. 27 at 7:30 p.m. The winner of the DuPo-Columbia game will play Assumption Feb. 28 at 7:30 p.m. The winners of those two semifinal games will play Friday, Feb. 29 at 7:30 p.m. for the championship.

Madison back on top in final hoop poll

GRANITE CITY — The Madison Trojans find themselves right back where they started — on top — in this week's Press-Record/Collinsville Herald poll of area Class A (small school) basketball coaches, the final one of the season.

But Madison hasn't been there all season. After owning the top spot most of the season, Madison fell from there after losing to Lovejoy (Brooklyn) in the championship of the DuPo Tournament in January. Since that time, Lovejoy and Okaville have either been all alone or shared the top spot. That was, until last week, when Madison moved back into a first place tie with Okaville.

But that tie was broken Friday night when Okaville came limping home from Breese with a 55-54 loss at the hands of the Mater Dei Knights. Okaville finds itself in second place this week.

Lovejoy, despite being declared ineligible for post-season play by the IHSA, got two first place votes, but could only make it to third, one point ahead of Lebanon. Venice finds itself in sixth, just two points off the pace of Mater Dei.

In the Class AA (large school) poll, Alton continues to lead the pack, followed by East St. Louis Lincoln, Collinsville and East St. Louis Senior. Those three teams, along with Granite City South, will make up the field at the Collinsville Regional Tournament in two weeks.

With the beginning of the Class A state playoffs next week, there will be no more small school polls. But there will be one more Class AA poll.

WHO'S THAT GUY?

The Granite City High Warriors were upset 64-62 by West Frankfort in the 1960 Illinois basketball Super-Sectional at East St. Louis. West Frankfort went on to capture third place in the State Finals. One of the top players for the Redbirds was a skinny player by the name of Bryan Wilkinson — now athletic director at Granite City North.

Area's best grapplers will converge on GC

GRANITE CITY — A total of 97 of some of Southern Illinois' best high school wrestlers will converge on Granite City South's Memorial Gymnasium this Friday and Saturday for the annual Illinois High School Association Class AA (large school) Sectional Tournament.

The tournament, from which wrestlers will advance to the State Finals next weekend at the University of Illinois' Assembly Hall in Champaign-Urbana, will begin with a single session Friday at 7 p.m. and will resume Saturday with sessions at 1 and 7 p.m.

Three wrestlers in each of the twelve weight classes will advance to the State Finals, meaning that if a wrestler can make it through his first two bouts unbeaten, he is guaranteed a trip to Champaign.

Granite City will be well-represented. A total of 13 wrestlers — seven from Granite City South and six from Granite City North — made it through last weekend's Wood River District Tournament. South won the team championship, while North finished second. Belleville West, of the Triad District, advanced eight wrestlers, the most of any team, and features five unbeaten among them. "I'd have to say that West is the pre-tournament favorite," said South head coach Bill "Red" Schmitt. "On the basis of everything they've done this season and the fact that they have five unbeaten wrestlers makes them the ones to beat."

West head coach John Wehrmeister said he hopes to advance all five unbeaten to the State Finals, but that after that, he can realistically only see one other West grappler making it. "I think we might be able to slip in at 167 pounds," he said. "But even that's going to be hard."

South and Springfield Lamphier each are tied for second in the number of individual wrestlers advancing to the Sectional Tournament with seven. "I honestly don't know that much about Lamphier this season," said Schmitt. "But the fact that they were able to beat out Quincy (Senior) in the District makes it obvious they're pretty good."

"We had some trouble with Quincy at McCluer earlier this year, even though we were missing a few people," South head coach said. "Quincy challenge at a quadrangular meet at McCluer High School in Missouri."

Wehrmeister said he felt that the strongest challenge to his wrestlers would come from South. "They have to be the most serious challengers we have to worry about," he said. But Granite City North had more individual champions at Wood River (actually each team had four).

Schmitt said he feels North could provide West with a strong challenge for the team title. "They (North) are wrestling very well right now," he said. "There are going to be some interesting bouts come Saturday."

On such possible "interesting bout" come Saturday could involve North's Kevin Shemwell, the once-beaten 132 pound champ at Wood River, against West's undefeated Keith Hernandez.

Individual District champions from South who qualified for the sectional are Dean Perkins (145), Greg Garland (112), Rich James (185) and Drue Clement (155). Second-place finishers who advanced are Randy Lupardus (119), Tom McElroy (138) and Scott Polson (167). Perkins and Polson advanced to last season's State Finals, with Perkins taking third in his weight class.

North District champions are Shemwell, Steve Smith (105), Tracy Patton (119) and Bob Kirgan (126), showing the strength the Steelers have in the lower weight divisions.

Second-place finishers from Districts who will be in action are Mike Robinson (98) and Gerald Miller (112). Last season, Miller, Kirgan and Shemwell advanced to the State Finals.

A total of 29 (out of a possible 34 district entries) will be represented by wrestlers at the Sectional Tourney. Thirty-six individuals will advance to the State Finals.

MADISON — Madison Trojan girls basketball coach Carol Sterns could take solace in the fact that her team will have plenty of time to rest before it enters the regional tournament early in March.

After what Granite City South's girls did to the Trojans, Tuesday night, it looked to Sterns like Madison needed some rest and recuperation.

South's Warriors' strong defense and the formidable talents of Chris Boyd left Madison even more fatigued, and ended the Trojans' regular season with a 60-44 trouncing.

"At our best we'd give them a run for their money," Sterns said, referring to the Warriors.

"But I don't know what's wrong with us lately. We played in the St. Paul (Highland) Tournament last week, and we had to struggle to make it to the consolation game."

"I guess we're just tired at this point. It's been a long season."

It didn't help matters having to end that long season with the Warriors, who have lost but one game this year. And if giving South a run for its money meant Madison needed to be at its best, then the Trojans must have had something less than the best.

"I think we went into this game thinking we were going to lose," Sterns said. "We wanted to win a lot, but we just didn't react. We were standing around and just reaching and poking."

Of course, the Trojans couldn't have been exactly thrilled at the prospect of facing the likes of Boyd and company.

And Boyd didn't do anything to ease the Trojans' apprehension. Boyd once again dominated play at both ends of the court. Offensively, he accounted for 30 points, half of South's scoring output. Defensively, the

South, Boyd smash Trojans

Of course, the Trojans couldn't have been exactly thrilled at the prospect of facing the likes of Boyd and company.

And Boyd didn't do anything to ease the Trojans' apprehension. Boyd once again dominated play at both ends of the court. Offensively, he accounted for 30 points, half of South's scoring output. Defensively, the smooth-moving center kept things tidy around the basket, as she swept down nine rebounds. Much of the rest of South's scoring was done by Susan Jeffries and Susan Bell, who had eight points apiece.

"Chris had a real good game," South coach Norm Grote said. "I guess 30 points kind of indicates that. And Bell and Jeffries both scored for us, but I think I'd rather have five girls with 10 points each."

Grote wasn't picky, though. He was pleased by the Warriors' performance — especially on defense.

From the start, the Warriors were well in control of the Trojan attack. The opportunistic Warriors held Madison to only four points in the first quarter, and led 13-4 after the close of the period.

In the second quarter, Madison came to life as Beatrice Lewis and Laura Brown combined to keep Madison in the game. At the half, South led 31-17.

At the beginning of the third quarter, Madison made what turned out to be its strongest run at cutting South's large lead.

After nearly three minutes had been spent, the Trojans had pulled to within 10 points, mainly through the combined effects of hot outside shooting and a momentary lapse in South's offense.

With 5:38 left in the period, South lost the ball out of bounds, and Trojan Ruth Jacks took advantage with a shot from the left corner which pulled Madison to within eight points.

That, however, was as close as the Trojan charge would carry. South regrouped, dropping back in a more conservative zone defense, and ended the quarter with an 18-point lead, 46-28.

In the fourth quarter the Warriors put on the final touches and wound up with a 60-44 win.

"We're going to have to take about a week and rest up," Sterns said. "Then we're going to have to get down to work on the regional."

Roxana moves past Cahokia for a change

GRANITE CITY — At last! A change in the Press-Record Prep Wrestling Coaches' Poll!

For the last six weeks, the poll's top five teams have been the same, usually by unanimous votes, with Belleville West the choice for the top spot, Granite City South and Granite City North next, followed by Cahokia and Roxana. It seemed like a broken record.

But after last weekend's Wood River Class AA (large school) District Tournament, in which Roxana edged Cahokia by one point, the coaches found a way to make a change.

Roxana has jumped from fifth to fourth by the same one point margin.

PRESS-RECORD WRESTLING POLL

First place votes in parentheses	Points
1. Belleville West (5)	50
2. GRANITE CITY SOUTH	40
3. GRANITE CITY NORTH	40
4. Roxana	35
5. Cahokia	35
6. Belleville East	25
7. O'Fallon	18
8. Macoulet	15
9. Edwardsville	10
10. Moline	10

Others receiving votes (in order of points): East St. Louis, 8; and East St. Louis, 5.

However, just about everything else in the poll remained the same as last week. About the only other exception to note is that there was another unanimous choice — Belleville East for sixth.

Even though Roxana was able to beat Cahokia in the District and passed the poll, one coach felt Cahokia should be voted ahead. "I think Cahokia has a better chance at getting somebody out of the Sectional Tournament this weekend at Granite (South) than Roxana," the coach said.

Roxana had three fourth place votes and two fifth, while Cahokia got three fifths and two fourths.

Rounding out the top ten are O'Fallon, Macoulet, Edwardsville and Collinsville, which retrains to the top ten for the first time since the opening poll of the season after advancing to the state after winning the South's Sectional.

Kathy Juhasz finished eighth in the Girls' 12-13 year old division by making 13 of 25 free throws.

The three Granite Cityans were among 86,684 youngsters from around the state who began competition in the Hoop Shoot contest at the local level late last year.

Champion in his age group, finished third, making 21 out of 25 free throw attempts. The winner of the age group made 25 of 25.

Champaign, Thursday (Feb. 14), and lost 23-18 to the Illini. The Cougars ended with a 5-9 dual team record.

Cougar Coach Larry Kristoff juggled the weights for his Valentine's Day match to try to get an advantage that he could win with. However, his plan seemed to backfire. Kristoff lost three of his four juggled weights.

Another disappointment was felt by the Cougars as they were forced to settle for two draws instead of two victories. At 126, Brett Means, of SIUE, punished Illini's John Bowman, 20-7. At 134, Matt Mabrey lost 10-5 to Tom Powello.

Ervin at 142 tied Ralph Cortez, 6-6; and the Lorentzen, at 150, tied John Kalauch, 4-4. At 158, Aaron Newman lost to Trent Taylor, 15-7.

Cougar junior 118-pounder Tom Reed added another plus mark to his already brilliant dual meet record. At Champaign, Reed increased his dual mark to 12-0, with his 2-31 pin over Bruce Irusti. At 126, Brett Means, of SIUE, punished Illini's John Bowman, 20-7. At 134, Matt Mabrey lost 10-5 to Tom Powello.

No GC Hoop Shooters advance from state

SPRINGFIELD — Three Granite City youngsters took part in the "Hoop Shoot" free throw contest here over the weekend, and performed well. However, none will advance to the Regional Contest.

Granite City's Harry Briggs III, last year's state champion in his age group, finished third, making 21 out of 25 free throw attempts. The winner of the age group made 25 of 25.

Dane Merz of Granite City finished fourth in the girls' 10-11 year old division. She made 13 out of 25 attempts from the line.

Late goal sparks GC South

ST. LOUIS — An unassisted goal by Granite City South's Tim Dix late in the game gave his team a come-from-behind 6-5 victory over Hazelwood East at the North County Ice Rink in Mid States Hockey League action Monday night.

Despite being out-shot by East 41-28, South got two third period goals to East's one for the win. South goalie Greg Mulach stopped 36 shots.

East broke out on top with a 2-1 lead at the end of the first period. After Hazelwood opened the scoring, South's Gary Brown got the first of his two goals at the 6:27 mark, assisted from teammates Mike Hassler and Pat Theis.

East then went ahead 4-1 on a pair of goals in the second period before South's Warriors went to work on the comeback.

Tim Garner scored at the 9:50 mark, getting assists from Tim Grove and Billy McKinnon. Then Theis brought South within one goal when he took a pass from Brown and shot it past the East goalie at the 2:31 mark.

Less than a minute later, at the 1:53 mark of the second, Brown got his second goal and an assist from Tim Phelps, tying the score at 4-4.

In the third period, Hazelwood once again took the lead and it appeared the South comeback might fall short. But Theis scored with 3:32 from Rick Bicanie to tie the score.

Finally, with 1:22 left in the game, Dix scored the winning goal.

The victory raised South's league record to 6-12-1. The Warriors' next game will be Saturday night at the North County Rink at 9:15 against Parkway North High School.

North edges Tigers

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City girls basketball team made its coach, Harry Cooke, proud here Tuesday night.

The Steelers played patiently and came from behind to beat Edwardsville 41-39 in a Gateway East Conference game and gained revenge for an earlier one-point defeat in Edwardsville.

Edwardsville led most of the first half and for a good portion of the third quarter. But the Steelers' patience paid off.

Behind a balanced scoring attack, North took away the lead from Edwardsville late in the third quarter and took a five-point lead most of the way through the fourth.

Once they got the lead, North held the ball. "We did a pretty good job of it too," said Cooke. "We showed a lot of patience."

Cooke said he was happy with the way his team was able to get the shots it wanted throughout the game. "We were taking some pretty good shots," he said. "But they just weren't dropping. Thankfully, they started dropping in for us later in the game."

North was paced by the 14 point effort of Leslie McIntyre. No other Steelers were in double figures, but there was enough balanced scoring to go around.

Edwardsville placed three players in double figures, each with 11. But the big factor, according to Cooke, was the Tigers' 6'2" center, Kathy Moren, who held scoreless by the North defense.

"Our defense did a heck of a job all the way around," said Cooke. "But especially on the big girl."

North will travel to Belleville East tonight (Thursday) for a non-conference game. Jayvee action will begin at 6:30, with varsity set for about 8 o'clock.

GC teams split frosh-soph

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North sophomores scored a 45-44 victory over Granite City South at home Wednesday night, but the South freshmen made up for it by beating North 73-54 in their game.

In the North sophomore game, the Steelers were led by Sullivan's 14 point outburst. South's Tom Miller led all scorers with 16 points, while teammate Jim Choate added 10.

North led 24-17 at halftime, only to see that lead vanish into a 34-33 South lead in the end of the third quarter. Both teams made 20 field goals. North made one more of its free throw attempts.

In South's freshman victory, John Linhart paced the Warriors with 21 points. Pat Linhart was right behind with 19. Ed Cowley had 12 and Barry Gorte had 10 for South.

North was led by Trittschuh's 12 points.

Marathon: A grueling race

Special to the Press-Record
ST. LOUIS — No other sporting event has so captured the heart and soul of today's runner than the marathon. A grueling 26 mile, 385 yard test of physical endurance and mental determination, it is the ultimate prize — the crowning laurel wreath.

There are many reasons why the marathon has taken on such significance. One is its origin. In 490 BC, the Persian despot Darius ordered his armies to "enslave Athens and Eretria" and bring the slaves into his presence. The armies clashed on the plains of Marathon northeast of Athens, and the Greeks emerged victorious.

To speed the news of the victory, the Greeks dispatched their finest runner, Pheidippides, who ran to Athens, a distance of 22 miles, 1870 yards, announced the news of the victory, then collapsed and died.

Pheidippides' sacrifice is seen today as a tribute to a Greek culture which celebrated the union of body and mind as a form of art. This philosophy is the basis for the Olympic Games.

But most runners will point to more personal reasons for their participation in a marathon. Some say it's for the pure enjoyment of running. This may seem contradictory to a non-runner who sees only the pain and fatigue on a participant's face. Yet long-distance runners often speak of a psychological-physical state of well being that they derive from running in a marathon. It's a kind of natural high.

Another reason cited is the chance for fellowship with other runners. Marathons attract people from all walks of life — every one different, but all sharing a common goal. Many lifelong friends ships have developed among long-distance runners as a result of this fellowship.

One of the most frequently given reasons for running in a marathon is the challenge of just completing the race. The idea of competing against oneself and winning is very strong.

Veteran marathon runners like the variable nature of the race. While the distance is always the same, each marathon will be different. The location can be hilly, by the sea, through historic streets or along country roads. The weather can be chilling and wet or muggy and humid. Each race is a challenge in itself.

Doctors and psychologists often speak of the therapeutic nature of long distance running. They believe it to be a great tool in relieving the tension and stress of everyday living. And running is one of the best-known forms of exercise.

Many doctors feel that when done in conjunction with a nutritious diet, long-distance running helps promote good health and physical fitness.

Research is now being conducted to test the theory that this combination can help prevent heart and other related diseases.

For all these reasons, runners continue to participate in marathons. Just as the ancient Greeks believed in promoting the natural union of body and mind, today's runner sees the marathon as a positive approach to a healthier lifestyle.

Ralston-Purina and the St. Louis Track Club agree and are happy to sponsor this year's Bran Chex 10 Kilometer Race and Third Olympiad Memorial Marathon in St. Louis on March 2.

Cougars hold off late charge by SIUE

Special to the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville basketball Cougars had things going their way here Wednesday night at halftime of their game with Indiana State-Evansville.

But the second half was a different story.

The Cougars held on for dear life and escaped with a 74-73 victory over the Screaming Eagles after leading 43-25 at the half.

Early in the second half, SIUE scored two straight baskets to take a 45-25 lead. But that wasn't the comeback started for Indiana State.

The Eagles climbed within five points at 54-49 midway through the half. The gap remained the same five points for the next several minutes as the two teams traded buckets.

Then, with 4:12 remaining in the game, SIUE's leading scorer, Bill Branz drove the lane for a basket and was fouled by SIUE's Cully Nelson. Branz made good on the free throw to complete a three-point play to give the Cougars a 67-56 lead.

But the Eagles weren't through yet.

With 2:41 remaining, SIUE led 71-61. But the Eagles outscored them 12-3 over the remaining time to make it close.

With 16 seconds left, and the score 74-71, SIUE's Greg Payne stepped to the free throw line for a one-and-one situation that would have iced the victory away. But no.

Payne missed the shot and SIUE-E got the rebound. Eagle Dave Collins pulled up and let fly with a six-footer, trying to get a foul and a possible three-point play. Officials ruled the basket was good, but that Collins was not fouled. The game was over.

The game was possibly Branz's finest hour of the season. He made 10 of 14 field goal attempts, hit five of six free throws and snared 19 rebounds. He is the third-leading rebounder in the nation among NCAA Division II players.

PONDEROSA'S PLAYER OF THE WEEK What? Another one?

VENICE — Archie Gardner is another in a long line of basketball players in his family. But if he keeps up at his present rate, he might make people forget about his brothers.

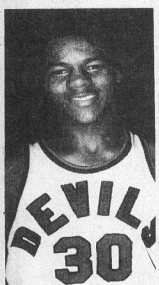

The 6'11" sophomore sensation scored 26 points last Friday against powerful St. Louis Central, 24 the next night against Vashon of St. Louis and 16 Tuesday night against St. Henry of Belleville.

Even though Venice managed to win only one of those three games, Gardner's performance has earned him Player of the Week honors.

Archie's older brother Donald, a senior, is a potential all-state forward and could well have been chosen this week for the honors. He was among the nominees. But it was little brother's turn this week.

Gardner (Archie) earned a starting berth on the Venice squad in the pre-season and has held onto it. He is the team's second-leading scorer on the season behind guest who — brother Donald.

The Player of the Week is

chosen each week from nominations phoned in to the Press-Record by area coaches.

Among the other nominees this week were Venice's Donald Gardner, Madison's Morris Hughes and Charles Claggett, North's Dennis Page and Leslie McIntyre and Chris Ley Heubner and Chris Boyd.

and getting its shots. They just weren't dropping.

"They (St. Henry) did the same thing to us last year at their place," said Perkins. "They work awfully hard. They try."

But try as they did, the Eagles simply were no match for the quicker, faster and stronger Red Devils.

Venice wasted no time in taking the lead away from St. Henry — for good. With Donald Gardner and Wigfall leading the way, the Red Devils outscored the Eagles 14-0 the rest of the first quarter to lead 24-12 at the end of the period.

That was all she wrote.

Venice had fun the rest of the game. The Devils took a total of 94 shots in the contest and made 55. Missing 39 shots usually doesn't look too good — but in this case, it was still over 50 percent.

"We seemed to be more

concerned about scoring than St. Henry from scoring," said Perkins. "Run and put it up. Run and put it up. That's all we did."

Not really everything. The Red Devils dominated the boards, also. They snared 50 rebounds to St. Henry's 21. But that wasn't enough to please Perkins.

"Most of those were offensive rebounds, where we had a chance to put the ball back up in the hoop," he said. "On the defensive end, we were happy just to let the ball get through the basket so we could run with it and score again."

The victory raised Venice's record to 13-10 going into the final weekend of the regular season. Next week, the Devils begin play in the Dupo Class A Regional Tournament (see related story).

the length of the court, rising off the floor as if with grace, gracefully dropping the ball through the hoop. Or just as easily slamming it viciously through.

He was a player. Shoot-from-the-hip brand.

But soon, it would all be gone. Just a memory. Oh, sure, Eric was good enough to go on to play basketball in college somewhere. With his talents, lots of people wanted him. Or rather, they wanted his ability.

But in high school, Eric was playing for HIS people. The people he saw every day. The ones who knew him before he became a star. He wanted to win something to prove that his little town existed and wasn't some obscure spot on the map.

But they took that chance away.

Make no mistake, it was probably the only thing the association could have done. Punishing children for the mistakes of adults. To have done nothing had been an injustice to all who had fallen before.

But Eric didn't know anything about that. He didn't care.

You can bet your life that Eric's little school won't make the same mistake again. But it won't make any difference to Eric.

Young Eric's team might well have lost its first game in those playoffs and it would have been over.

But he'll never know.

'Broom-ball' tourney

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Park District will be sponsoring a Co-Ed Open Broomball Tournament the week of March 6-15.

The tournament will start Saturday, March 8 at 10 p.m. One game will be played every weeknight at 10 p.m. The finals will be Saturday, March 15 at 7 p.m. There will also be a consolation bracket.

A maximum of eight teams will be accepted in the tournament. The registration fee will be $20 per team and must be paid at the time of registration. A roster shall consist of no more than 20 players. A broomball game consists of three fifteen minute periods running time. All ties are decided by sudden death.

Anyone interested in playing may contact the park office. For further information, 877-3059.

LAKE SCHOOL BROWNIES representing Brownie Troop 264 use hand puppets, they made, to illustrate a song entitled "Suitors" a Brazilian selection. The performance was included in the afternoon Thinking Day program held at St. Margaret Mary School cafeteria, this week, a project of Neighborhood Four.

YUGOSLAVIAN CIRCLE DANCE is performed by members of Junior Girl Scout Troop 267 from Wilson School at a Thinking Day program at St. Margaret Mary School cafeteria. Also participating in the event were troops in Neighborhood Four under the leadership of Mrs. Dee Loyet.

Girl Scouts observe Thinking Day event

Girl Scout Neighborhood Four, comprising Wilson, St. Margaret Mary, Lake, Parkview, Frohardt, and Marshall Schools, celebrated Girl Scout "Thinking Day" Sunday, Feb. 17. The program was held at St. Margaret Mary's cafeteria from 2 to 4 p.m.

"Thinking Day" is a day set aside for Girl Scouts and Girl Guides all over the world to think of each other and promote international friendship.

The program opened with the traditional flag ceremony presented by Junior Troop 267 of Wilson School, followed by a parade of international flags.

Mrs. Diana Kinder, leader of Junior Troop 218, was master of ceremonies and chairman of the program, which included songs and dances from foreign countries.

Neighborhood Four Chairman Dee Loyet introduced Myra Parrish, District Four Chairman, and Gayle Wolfskill, District Four Advisor, who attended the program. Marge Charter, leader of Brownie Troop 509, Wilson School, assisted Mrs. Kinder in teaching Girl Scout songs to the audience.

For their part in the program Cadette Troop 328 presented the Mexican Hat Dance. Other troops presenting dances were Junior Troop 267, Wilson, a Yugoslavian circle dance, Junior Troop 825, Parkview, a Russian folk dance called "Troika"; and Brownie Troop 281, St. Margaret Mary, an English folk dance, "Greensleeves." Junior Troop 890, St. Margaret Mary, and 709, Marshall, sang the African song, "Kum Ba Ya," using hand signs for the dance.

Brownie Troop 264, Lake School, sang a Brazilian song entitled "Suitors," using hand puppets they made to help in the presentation. Brownie Troop 852, Parkview, sang "Frere Jacques" and "French Cathedral." Junior Troop 218, Frohardt, sang "The Caravan Song" and "The Zulu Warrior." At the end of the program they provided candlelight background and support for the group singing of "Each Campfire Lights Anew."

One of the highlights of the program was a presentation of Middle Eastern dancing by Norma Evans, leader of Brownie Troop 825. Mrs. Evans also is a school teacher and teaches Middle Eastern dancing. The audience was fascinated by the use of the veils and the intricate movements of the dance. At the end of the program the troops not performing in the program provided cookies and punch for refreshments.

DECLARATION OF ENERGY INDEPENDENCE is discussed by Marissa Mayor Arthur Macke (left) and Congressman Melvin Price (23rd District). More than 60 Southern Illinois mayors signed a document protesting layoffs of over 1,500 persons resulting from restrictions on use of high-sulfur Illinois coal. The congressman agreed to relay the group's concerns to President Jimmy Carter. Cong. Paul Simon (24th Dist.) was presented more than 7,500 petition signatures.

PEOPLE

Best way to run is to already be a congressman

How to become a member of Congress?

Statistically, and practically, it is much simpler to win a Congressional election if you already are a congressman—ready, willing and with a federally-paid staff to perform a variety of services for voters.

The problem of running against an incumbent is compounded when campaigning against a nationally-known legislative leader like Melvin Price of this district. "You just can't hardly get there from here," as the saying goes, but would-be congressmen continue to try.

Elected in the 23rd District every two years starting in November 1984, Cong. Price traditionally chalks up a landslide victory, whether the balloting be the primary or the general election.

Past chairman of the Joint House-Senate Committee on Atomic Energy, he currently is chairman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee and a recognized authority in the field of national defense.

A Democrat, Price seeks a 19th term and is opposed in the March 18, 1980, primary by Victor L. Darnell and Sam P. Drenovac. Rivals for the Republican nomination are Ronald L. Davinroy and Phil Montalvo.

In the picture immediately below, he is chatting with two young constituents in his Washington, D.C., office—with a copy of the Granite City Press-Record on his desk. Next to that is a recent photo of the veteran legislator delivering a public talk.

No set of a few pictures could span his entire Congressional career, but these give some idea of his many activities. Conferring at the lower left with building trades union officials, Price sits near some of the wall plaques referring to the federal agencies with which he has direct contact and expertise. In the lower center picture, he is showing Granite Cityans a prototype of the Apollo spacecraft and backpack.

At the lower right, the local member of Congress descends from an Air Force plane during official travel. He has inspected numerous Department of Defense installations in this country and overseas in connection with his Armed Services Committee responsibilities.

Price's principal primary opponent may prove to be Darnell, 40, a former Granite Cityan who lives in Edwardsville with his wife and daughter and is a sociology instructor at Belleville Area College. A lifelong Madison County resident with a master's degree from SIUE, the Marine Corps veteran once headed the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission. He assails Congress for inaction on energy and inflation.

Drenovac, 55, a longtime Chouteau Township resident, has run for public office a number of times. A South Pacific veteran and a farmer who attended the University of Illinois, he was the Republican Congressional nominee four years ago. He would seek to limit taxation and imports.

Davinroy, 46, O'Fallon, married and the father of three children, is a lifelong St. Clair County resident who is a sales manager with the electrical motors division of Emerson Electric Co. The former Navy combat pilot is a conservative who would try to reduce the federal debt and balance the budget. He would seek to defend free enterprise from excessive taxation and regulation.

Montalvo, 33, Belleville, has been campaigning against federal spending and the incumbent's voting record. Active in Young Republican groups, he was an attorney for Northwestern Mutual Insurance before beginning a private law practice in 1971. He and his wife have two children.

Price cannot match the relative youth of his ballot rivals, but associates say he is much more active and vigorous than his opponents contend.

And with his contacts and knowledge, he can get much more accomplished than most members of Congress regardless of their age, aides say.

Ever courteous, hard-working, and highly informed, he could be a formidable election foe for a considerable period of time, political authorities are convinced.

Nuclear power plant estimated cost is revised

Illinois Power Company last week announced revisions in the Clinton nuclear power station Unit 1 cost estimate and the Unit 2 construction schedule.

The company's new cost estimate for Unit 1 is approximately $1,388,000,000 for the entire unit, an increase of $102 million from the previous estimate.

The new estimate reflects expected increases in construction costs of $168 million offset by decreased indirect costs of $66 million. Details of this new estimate will be available when the company files its Unit 1 cost estimate report with the Illinois Commerce Commission later this month.

The factors contributing to increased construction cost have been inflation at higher levels than estimated, increased material quantity and manhour estimates resulting from completed design drawings, and increased engineering costs and design changes due to regulatory requirements.

The decrease in interest cost reflects the effect of including $97 million of construction work in progress in the company's rate base.

In addition, interest costs to Illinois Power were reduced due to the purchase of 20 percent of Clinton Unit 1 by two electric cooperative groups following the preparation of the company's previous estimate.

Unit 2 previously was scheduled to be in service in 1988. The company's new electric load forecast indicates that no additional generating capacity after Clinton Unit 1 will be needed until 1991.

It will not be necessary to make a decision for several years whether additional capacity will be Clinton Unit 2 or a fossil fuel power generating unit, a spokesman said.

Census statistics aid many groups

Not long ago, a young woman phoned the Census Bureau and asked how she could find out the number of unmarried men in her city.

The Bureau employee said he could supply that information, broken down by neighborhood if she so desired.

"Fantastic," she said. "And can you tell me the neighborhoods where the men are young and wealthy?"

This woman was learning something that business, civic and government leaders have known for years: the census is often the best — and sometimes the only — source of accurate statistics about people and their housing, from a national level right down to a specific city block.

Every U.S. resident will be asked to answer the 1980 census, which begins on April 1. The outcome will be a new, in-depth assessment of the nation, the nature of which has not been available for 10 years.

The Constitutional purpose of the census, to provide a basis for reapportionment among the states of seats in the House of Representatives, has been constant since 1790.

In modern times, particularly since the advent of the computer three decades ago, other applications of census data have become increasingly diverse. Census information is used daily everywhere in the United States.

In Illinois cities, such as Atlanta and San Francisco, transportation planners rely on census information when selecting bus routes, subway stops, and highways that will need widening.

In Detroit, a pizza parlor chain consults census statistics when choosing the best site for a new restaurant.

During the past 10 years, government at every level has multiplied dramatically its dependence on census data to help plan and implement programs. More than 100 federal programs now guide their spending of an estimated $50 billion annually with census statistics.

Funding for the Cooperative Extension Service, for example, hinges on a state's rural and farm population as determined by the census.

Spending for the Headstart program depends on the number of children in families below the poverty line.

More jobs, help for abused children, crime prevention assistance, extra reading teachers, federal highway funds — for these and many more federal programs, where the money is spent depends at least partially on what the 1980 census finds.

But census information does not cease being useful after the check is written. Local and state officials also rely heavily on census data when managing their programs.

For instance, federally funded nutritional and social service programs for the elderly bring senior citizens together at least five days a week to share hot, nutritious meals and companionship in local halls, church basements, and other meeting places. Congress has specified that each participating state should receive funds according to its over-60 population as determined by the census — the more senior citizens, the larger the check.

Local officials must pick sites for the nutritional program. In Indianapolis, the census was consulted to pinpoint the 20 small areas of the city with the largest numbers of senior citizens. The Mayor's Task Force on Aging used this information to open nutrition centers for the elderly in each of the 20 neighborhoods.

Every 1980 census question will provide information for use in or out of government — always, a prescribed by law, anonymous statistics of the census can't be linked to individuals.

Answers to the income questions on the census, for example, will directly influence a community's share in the General Revenue Sharing program.

A firm in Nashville used census data about the number of working mothers, median family income and the age of children, to find areas in need of private day care centers.

Census data can be helpful to community groups. The Boy Scouts of Minnesota have used census statistics to assist their projections of future enrollment and the types of facilities needed.

In Kansas City, a church planned its building fund drive using census information about its attendance area. Block associations and others can make their drive to city hall for a park, or against a proposed highway, with census statistics to back up their reasoning. The Census Bureau will publish an estimated 300,000 pages of 1980 census statistics, which will be available also on microfilm, microfiche and computer tapes.

To inform the public about the existence of census statistics and how to acquire and use census products, the Bureau conducts a marketing program.

It publishes a newsletter about its products and services, conducts training courses, prepares guides and other aids for users and makes available the census data in various forms to public and private organizations — including New State Data Centers.

The Census Bureau also prepares college-level materials about how to use census products, which more than 1,000 instructors have used in their classes in such disciplines as sociology, business and geography.

Scandinavian study offered

A slide-show-and-tell meeting for students interested in earning a year's academic credit while studying and living abroad in any of four Scandinavian countries was held Wednesday and today at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Mary Sheppard, a graduate student in art and business at SIUE who studied weaving with the seminar in Finland in 1973, has praised the experience. "I learned the precise techniques of weaving with design and color," she said. The country of five million people has 36 weaving and sewing schools and is known worldwide for the design of its fabrics, glass and furniture.

She said she came back a year later with a different culture, a different point of view and 30 semester hours of credit in the Finnish language, art history and weaving.

The seminar begins with an intensive language course for all students before they begin the formal or folk schooling or work on individual studies.

Courses may include subjects ranging from art and architecture to education, communication, government, physical education or social welfare.

One student asked to learn to build boats and spent the year apprenticed to a boatmaker, Mary Sheppard said. Others in her group studied pottery and architecture.

Older graduates have gone on to careers as writers, physicians, educators, fashion designers, international bankers, business representatives, newspaper publishers and one as an ambassador to Norway.

The fee for the 1980-81 academic year in the Scandinavian Seminar is $4,900, including tuition, room, board and all course-connected travel in Scandinavia. Interest-free loans are granted and some partial scholarships are available, based on need.

Additional information and applications are available from Kathryn Krumler at 692-2207.
